

There's a way that trees, land and animals speak. Most of the time we are simply not patient enough, quiet enough to pay attention to the story. Here's a chance to listen to them, a workshop on telepathic communication with trees, land & animals.

That night, as I walked in my house after attending a course in Animal Communication, I saw my tortoise Mehru awake, which was unusual. As soon as my daughter opened the balcony sliding doors, he straight came to me. Since I had newly learned telepathic animal communication, I thought of telepathically asking him why was he awake that late and got a reply from him that he was hungry. Just to validate the information I had received, I checked with my daughter when did he eat. To my surprise and her shock she jumped out of her chair saying she forgot to feed him. As soon as she fed him, he slept within the next five minutes. And that was the beginning of my journey as a Telepathic Animal Communicator!

Telepathy means feeling, perception, experience through a distance without using any physical interaction. Telepathic Animal Communication encompasses a transaction of feelings, intentions, thoughts, and sensations. Animals can communicate and speak to you in the language you speak. So it doesn't matter if you speak in English or French. Humans can receive telepathic messages based on their capacity to tune in and to listen without any prejudices. Since I am a Spiritual Life Coach, a Telepathic Animal Communicator, and a Healer, I work with energy and consciousness; for me it happens through visions/pictures and energetic sensations. The last three years, as a professional Telepathic Animal Communicator, have been a roller coaster ride in the form of animals sharing their love life to their death day with me. And experiencing all of this, I have evolved.

Every human has the telepathic muscle and can build that muscle by practising sending and receiving messages telepathically. The only hurdle you can face during communication is your ability to trust yourselves. When one learns to trust oneself and be receptive, the information that animals shares with you flows. Animals are sensitive towards the energy, which is projected to them in the form of thoughts, feelings, emotions, and intentions. When people are unaware of their thoughts and mental-emotional energy, it gets them occupied in judgments, evaluations and analyses of the other, which can lead to confusion or distortion in communication. Learning how to communicate telepathically includes working on your own energy and be present in the moment. In a way, telepathic communication teaches us to be calm and peaceful. Through telepathic communication, one can experience oneness and can understand interdependence with all sentient beings.

I have had incredible experiences with animals during telepathic communication. A Shih-Tzu, with whom I have been consistently communicating for the whole of last year, has told me how each member of her family has a different personality and how daughter must learn to love herself and make herself a priority. Then, during one of the communications, she shared how she loved another dog in same building. I was amused at her love story. And recently, she gave a list of food items that she would like to eat. Its human mother validated next day that she absolutely loved that food and enjoyed eating. On a sombre note, one of the communications that I did was with a dog who was

TELEPATHIC ANIMAL COMMUNICATION CAN BE USED TO COMFORT ANIMALS WHEN THEY ARE SICK OR INJURED AND HEAR WHAT THEY FEEL. I ALSO DO ANIMAL HEALING DURING SUCH TIMES, WHICH HELPS THEM PHYSICALLY AS WELL AS EMOTIONALLY.
